

WINES OF PORTUGAL IN MUNICH

22 wine producers present their wines on 26 June at Praterinsel in Munich

Finally back in Munich: 22 wine producers from Portugal will present their wines in person on 26 June in the filling hall of the Praterinsel in Munich. A good opportunity for trade and gastronomy to bring themselves up to date and better position themselves in the Wines of Portugal sector. Wines from Portugal are in great demand in Germany. This is reflected by the fact that Portugal is once again ranked 8th in the German import statistics. In addition, 20% of ProWein visitors focused on Portuguese wines. This popularity is no coincidence. Because Portuguese wines captivate with a great price-pleasure ratio, are thus a guarantee for growth for the trade and time and again an authentic recommendation for wine-loving restaurateurs

More than 160 wines from Vinho Verde to Porto e Douro, Bairrada, Beira Interior, Dão and Lafões, Lisboa, Peínsula de Sétubal and Alentejo will be available for tasting. Portugal expert David Schwarzwälder will also bring trade visitors up to date on trends and discoveries from Portugal in a seminar. The event is aimed exclusively at trade visitors from the retail, gastronomy and press sectors.

Wines of Portugal

Founded in 1996, ViniPortugal is a professional association whose mission is to promote the sale of Portuguese wines in Portugal and in the main international markets. Wines of Portugal provides strategic support to the Portuguese wine sector and brings together several organisations under one roof: distributors and producers, cooperative wineries, distilleries, winegrowers and regions. With a vineyard area of 192,000 hectares, Portugal is completely covered by demarcated regions and surprises with a diversity of 250 authorised autochthonous grape varieties, from the Algarve to the Minho regions.
